

HINT BLACKMAIL IN FAIMAN CONFESSION

GERMANS GIVEN FIRST BALLOT IN MILLENIUM

Nation to Vote Sunday for Chief for First Time in 1,000 Years

LEADER NEEDS MAJORITY

President Willy Hellpach Democrat, Looms as Most Formidable Candidate

By Associated Press

Berlin—For the first time in its history of more than a thousand years, dotted with the turbulent reigns of margraves, electors, kings and emperors, the German nation Saturday will be given the opportunity of electing its head through the medium of the popular ballot.

The late Friedrich Ebert, first president of the German republic, held his office by virtue of a vote of the national assembly in 1919, by which he was designated provisional president. At various times during the ensuing years he urged that his provisional status be ended, but it was deemed unwise to cast the country into the throes of a presidential election and it was by act of the reichstag, in October, 1921, that his provisional status was changed to a regular one. His term to expire June 30, 1925. His sudden death advanced this date by two months.

The law for election of the president provides that a candidate must obtain a clear majority of all the votes cast to be declared elected. As there are seven candidates in the running, no body in Germany seriously believes that any candidate can obtain a majority.

MAY VOTE AGAIN

The law therefore provides that a second ballot shall be taken, and this second election day has already been fixed for April 26. This time the candidate obtaining the highest number of votes will be declared elected, regardless of how large a vote the various opponents may roll up in the aggregate. Entirely new candidates may be named by the various parties or committees of parties for the second election.

Karl Carles, vice chancellor in the Marx cabinet, expected to head the column of returns, as he is assured of the undivided support of the German Nationalists, the German people's party.

Otto Braun, former premier of Prussia, has a big fight on his hands in trying to keep intact the socialist vote, which is menaced by Communists.

By virtue of his defense of the Weimar constitution and the intellectual quality of his speeches, Prof. Willy Hellpach, the Democratic party nominee, has easily proven his outstanding figure among the seven contending candidates.

NEENAH LOSES TO BELOIT, 18 TO 11

Christoph's Squad and New Glarus Eliminated as Third Place Aspirants

By Associated Press

Madison—Two minor upsets marked the close of the third place semi-finals of the state basketball tournament here when Waukesha defeated the fast New Glarus quint 25 to 20 and Beloit won over the flashy Neenah five, 18 to 11.

Both games gave evidence that the pace of four days playing was beginning to tell on the players. Neenah notably lacked the speed and flash exhibited in former contests. The Neenah-Beloit game was slow and rough and close until the final quarter when Beloit secured a 5-point lead and held it.

Waukesha secured the lead early in the game against New Glarus and held it, although New Glarus threatened in the third quarter when they brought their score to 16 against 17 for their opponents. Two field goals gave Waukesha a safe lead which they were able to hold the remainder of the game.

Charge Land Concerns In Lake States With Fraud

Washington—Land companies operating in the Great Lakes states have employed sales methods "which approach very close to the border line of frauds," declared a statement Saturday by the department of agriculture on its investigation of land settlement and colonization in the lake states. The states were not identified.

Establishment of definite sales and national policies regarding land settlement activities of private parties was urged in the report. While a number of companies are pursuing "honest and carefully planned systems" of land development, the department said, much wild land had been sold to farmers by the agencies whose "concern was sale and not settlement."

"From the standpoint of public interest," the statement said, "it would appear that concerns of the type which sell all classes of land irrespectively of their economic value are not operating entirely in the general welfare and methods should be employed to prevent the sale of land not physically or economically suited for settlement."

"The department's investigators reported that excessive competition has forced colonization companies to engage in heavy expense for advertising and selling to provide easy terms of land credit and to follow the policy of providing supplemental relief of providing supplemental credit for development. These methods of making settlement so easy tend to attract, among others in the class of settlers who are not of the highest type either in experience or financial capacity."

CATTLE IN IRELAND STARVING TO DEATH

Farm Unionist Leader Warns People Will See Red Unless Relief Is Offered

Belfast—A depressing picture of conditions in County Clare was drawn by Col. George O'Callaghan, Westropp Irish Farmers Union leader at a conference here Friday night.

The cattle are dying by wholesale, he declared, 436 head valued at 10 pounds each having succumbed in two months in one district and all the sheep were already dead, with no livestock left in two large town lands.

In two other town lands, covering an area of 20 miles long by 10 miles wide the people had lost 80 per cent of their livestock. They were living on what they could find, eating even dried leaves. The traveler could not journey along the roads without meeting two or three famished daily.

"The people are seeing black," the colonel said, "tomorrow they may see red and then God help Ireland."

CANDIDATES SPEND SMALL SUMS IN PRIMARY ELECTION

Candidates for aldermen and supervisors in Tuesday's primaries have not yet filed their campaign expense accounts with the city clerk who in this case is the filing officer. The Wisconsin statutes provide that these reports must be filed with the filing officer "within four days ending on the Saturday preceding any primary election, and on the Saturday following any election or primary."

Another provision of the statutes is that candidates must give in full detail "every sum of money and all property, and every other thing of value over five dollars in amount or value," used for political purposes.

According to E. L. Williams, city clerk, campaign expenditure of most candidates in the recent primaries were less than $5.

REJECT BILL FOR LIGHTS ON BUGGIES

Mueller Bill for Popular Election of Presidents to Be Heard Tuesday

Madison—Lights attached to the rear of pedestrians and animals that roam the highways at night was the comic picture presented by assembly opponents of the bill to require rear lights for all vehicles. The bill, introduced by assemblyman William Coleman, Milwaukee, was killed by indefinite postponement, after once having been advanced toward passage.

Motorists who have been hailed into court for violations of the traffic laws by motorcycle officers in plain clothes will be given an opportunity to air their complaints in a hearing to be held Tuesday by the senate judiciary committee on the Padway bill to require all local "cops" to wear uniforms and discontinue the practice of darting out of the shrubbery in pursuit of the speeding motorist. The bill is the child of the Wisconsin Motorists' association.

A hearing by the senate state and local government committee will be held Tuesday on the Gettelman bill which would require all search warrants to be executed within ten days after issuance of them or be void. The bill further provides that a copy of the search warrant must be left at the house searched and a receipt given for the return of the property.

The Mueller resolution to memorialize congress to promote an amendment to the federal constitution for election of the president and vice president by direct vote of the people instead of by the electoral college also is to be heard.

The ambassadors ask Marshall Foch and his colleagues to classify Germany's violations of the treaty disarmament clauses in the categories of "grave" and "insignificant" and to give a special opinion in each case as to the possible consequences if Germany is allowed to continue her present policy.

By Associated Press

Madison—Wisconsin hens will not be induced to increase their egg output under a state egg laying contest, the assembly decided Saturday. It indefinitely postponed the Hoffman bill to establish such a contest.

The contest would increase the egg output under a state egg laying contest, the assembly decided Saturday. It indefinitely postponed the Hoffman bill to establish such a contest.

TURN LIGHT ON CAMPAIGN FUND OF DEMOCRATS

Democratic National Committee Sues and Is Sued on Election Matter

"FIREWORKS" PROMISED

Leaders Say Publicity Agency Didn't Account for $50,000 Advance

New York—L. A. VanPatten, whose advertising agency is involved in a wrangle with the Democratic national committee over an advertising deal during the presidential campaign last year, promises that "fireworks" will be produced at the trial of suits filed Friday by both sides.

"The Borah committee investigating campaign expenditures will be interested more than a little in this suit," said Mr. VanPatten. He added that trial of the cases would "shed great light on the reasons why John W. Davis, Democratic presidential candidate, and Charles W. Bryan, vice presidential candidate, suffered such a crushing defeat in the election last fall."

The Democratic national committee filed suit to compel Van Patten, Inc. to account for a $50,000 cash advance for campaign advertising last fall and to return any amounts due. Van Patten, Inc., countered with a suit for $84,220, claiming the agency spent $9,220 above the original $50,000 and lost additional money as compensation on a $600,000 contract of which a $100,000 expenditure only about $100,000.

CAN'T SETTLE

After two unsuccessful conferences in an attempt to negotiate a settlement, subpoenas and notices to appear for examinations before trial April 3, were issued against Clem L. Shaver, Democratic national chairman, and George White.

Counsel for the committee said the attempt to have such examination would be resisted. Mr. Van Patten said that Jesse H. Jones of Texas, director of finance of the Democratic national committee would be a central figure in the case. Mr. Jones was a McAdoo supporter.

Mr. Shaver said: "It is simply a suit for the adjustment of a claim that is in dispute. The Van Patten suit is simply a back fire set against ours."

BIG AUDIENCE IS PLEASED WITH H. S. MUSICAL PROGRAM

Glee Clubs and Orchestra Combine to Present Splendid Entertainment

An excellent concert, worthy of older performers and musical groups longer established than the high school glee clubs and orchestra, was presented Friday night in Lawrence Memorial chapel by the girls and boys glee clubs and the orchestra of Appleton high school, under the direction of Carl McKee. The chapel was almost entirely filled and the audience with its applause paid a sincere compliment to the singers and to the director.

The specially pleasing to the audience were the numbers sung by the two glee clubs. The last number of this group, an adaptation of the sextette from "Lucia di Lammermoor," was rendered in excellent style and received enthusiastic applause.

The large high school orchestra, also under the direction of Mr. McKee, displayed excellent training in the numbers that were its part of the program. The orchestra played two groups.

Numbers that were well-liked were "The Two Clocks," sung by the girls glee club, "Johnny Schmoker," sung by the boys glee club, and "The Evening Wind," sung by the girls and boys glee club, with a obligato for four violins, played by Carl Schiebler, Lella Boettcher, Wilmar Schlaefler and Janet Camerons.

Carl Jebe, cellist, played "The Swan" as a solo number, displaying unusual talent.

Miss Miriam Peabody and Miss Russell, two gifted pianists, played two numbers for two pianos, "Chromatic Etude" and "Danse Macabre," both by Saint-Saens. Miss Peabody and Miss Russell, who are from the studio of Ludolph Arens, Lawrence Conservatory of Music, are well-known for their ability and Friday night exhibited their skill in an unusually pleasing manner.

They responded to the applause with an encore.

This is the first time for many years that the high school has maintained two glee clubs. The orchestra which this year is exceptionally large demonstrated the fine work that has been accomplished by the music department.

Forbids Swift Autoist From Operating Car

Because he turned a corner so fast his automobile almost tipped over, Raymond Karweick, 1414 N. Clark-st., is forbidden by the court from driving again until June 15.

Karweick was arrested by Detective-sergeant John Duval at 3:30 Friday afternoon, at N. Oneida and E. North-sts. The youth was said to be driving with such haste that he nearly caused an accident and dismounted so quickly the officer was unable to stop him. The machine was located later, however, and Karweick was taken to the police station and charged with reckless driving.

The driver told Judge A. M. Speth in municipal court, Saturday morning that he was operating a delivery truck outside of school hours and was in a hurry to complete his work. The judge informed the youth that he must not drive an automobile at any time until school closes. The case accordingly was adjourned to June 15.

BARNABAS URGES CATHOLIC CLERGY TO AID SCOUTING

Priests Are Shown Value of Work at Luncheon—Speaker Pays Visit to Bishop

Nine Catholic priests from this vicinity attended the luncheon at Conway hotel Thursday noon at which Brother Barnabas, executive secretary of the boys life bureau of the Knights of Columbus, spoke on the value of boy scout work.

Those present were: The Rev. Father Kernan of St. Mary church and the Rev. Father John of the Capuchin Fathers, Appleton; the Rev. Theodore Verbaten, St. John church, Little Chute; the Rev. F. X. Van Nistelrooy and the Rev. C. Reynaker, Holy Name church, Kimberly; the Rev. G. A. Clifford, St. Patrick church, and the Rev. W. E. Polaczky, St. John church, Menasha; the Rev. Theodore Kolbe, Hortonville; the Rev. Otto Kolbe, New London. P. O. Kelcher, valley scout executive, also was present. Two other priests, Messrs. W. J. Fitzmaurice, Appleton, and the Rev. Father Welx, Menasha, attended the evening dinner.

Brother Barnabas told the clergyman that church, home and school lost their highest value in training the young unless free time guidance also was provided the youth. He said boy scout work did not molest work of Junior Holy Name societies but that it should be added to the activities of that society instead. He also emphasized the futility of trying to do successful boys' work without at least 30 hours of intensive training for leaders. He pointed to the value of starting with small groups instead of large numbers.

An automobile trip was made to Green Bay during the afternoon when Brother Barnabas outlined his boys' work program to Bishop Paul P. Rhoads, head of Green Bay diocese. The bishop expressed his approval for the plan and is expected to give his support. A stop also was made at DePere to visit the Rev. Father McKeough of the Norbertine Fathers. The priest is head of a movement to establish a boys' camp at Shawano lake and his plans have been endorsed by the national boy scout headquarters and the boys' life bureau. Brother Barnabas gave suggestions for conducting the camp and urged that half of it be set aside for boy scout troops of Catholic churches.

WRITE ESSAYS ON U. S. CONSTITUTION

"The Constitution of the United States in its Making" is the subject chosen for an essay contest fostered among students in senior and junior high schools by the supreme assembly of the fourth degree Knights of Columbus. Prizes of $75, $50, and $25 will be awarded the winners, and the contest will close on April 15. All high school principals of the state have received information regarding the contest. The letter sent to principals by John A. Kuypers, DePere, master for the Wisconsin district, reads in part as follows:

"As an instructor and educator, you realize the value of the study of our government and the duties of citizenship. At the same time you must have been impressed with the fact that in our busy world with its multitude of distractions, it is a difficult task to create an interest which will prompt in our youth a happy and willing contemplation of these problems. With that thought in mind, Mr. Kuypers writes, the annual essay contest was arranged. It will close at 5 P. M., April 15. The offer is being made in every state in the Union, but Mr. Kuypers desires to have Wisconsin make the greatest number of entries.

Fellowship Of Prayer

Daily Lenten Bible reading prepared for Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America.

Repentance
Read Lk. 13:1-9. Text: 13:5. I tell you, Nay; but except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish.

MEDITATION—The question continually comes to our minds, Why do they prosper when there is no sign of repentance? God's ways for others we do not know. We are to be concerned with our own lives. The mercy of the Lord is long suffering but the fruit of disobedience will surely ripen. Repentance is a matter of desire and will. If we desire the good with all our hearts and put forth our will to turn resolutely from all selfishness and sin and hold fast to the faith we shall have the assurance of forgiven sin. God is waiting to help every man who truly repents.

"God is wide-awake. Nothing is hid from his sight. There is no unrecognized factor than can take him by surprise. He is wide-awake on the far off furrow. He is wide-awake on the field of common labor where some young disciple finds it hard to keep clean hands while he earns his daily bread."

PRAYER—Our heavenly Father, keep us ever in mind of thy laws. May they be as a shield against temptations. Then shall we seek true repentance and labor earnestly that all thy wandering children may find the way back to thy heart of love. Amen.

WAUPACA GIRL TO BRAVE S. A. JUNGLE

Miss Catherine MacGregor Off to Visit Haunts of Head Hunters

New York — Katherine MacGregor, formerly of Waupaca, Wis., the first white woman to cross the highest peak of the Andes, sailed Tuesday for South America, where she will attempt to penetrate to the Macas settlement and headhunters' colony in Ecuador, which no other white woman has ever been able to accomplish.

Miss MacGregor plans to start from Panama for the interior of Columbia, going up the Magdalena river to the jungle. Later she intends to visit the settlement of the Macas, taking motion pictures of them, and studying their customs, before invading the last land of the Jivaro Indians, known for their head-hunting proclivities.

After surveying the Jivaro camps she will go into the Madre de Dios country, crossing through some wilderness, and following one of the tributaries of the Amazon river.

She hopes to meet in the jungle the South American tiger, and to bring back with her specimens of the various snakes and monkeys, and birds of brilliant plumage. In her outfit for this expedition she has included a rifle, a motion picture machine and camera. She will write a book on her adventures. While on her travels she will collect musical instruments and curios for some of the museums in this country.

Miss MacGregor's past adventures include scaling the heights of Mount Mauna Kea in the Pacific and surviving the Japanese earthquake.

HARD TO PLACE BLAME FOR STEFFEN'S DEATH

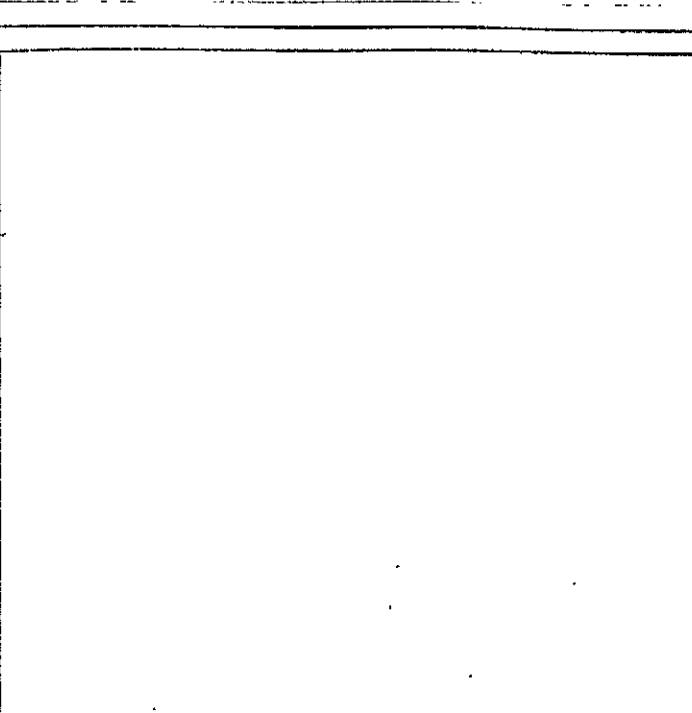

No inquiry or request has been ordered to fix the responsibility for the accident in which Jerome Steffen of Hortonville was injured fatally and Nya Schwabs, also of Hortonville, was badly hurt. No request has been made to John A. Lonsdorf, district attorney, to take action in the matter. Mr. Lonsdorf has made an investigation, however, and learns from the expressions of several persons that the automobile occupied by Steffen and Schwabs and the oil truck driven by Verne Belonger New London, both were supposed to have been without lights.

The most generally accepted version of the collision is that the Schwabs automobile was following a large car that had lights and that the driver was moving rapidly to keep up with the leading car. It is said that the lighted auto reduced its speed quite suddenly and that Schwabs had to turn out and try to pass it to prevent a rear-end collision. The automobile truck happened to be in the path of the Schwabs car and a violent crash resulted.

"You can't judge a horse by his harness"

Here's a wise old saying that has come down through the years. Apply it to seeds and it would read—"You can't tell what seeds will do by looking at them." You've got to see them perform in order to judge them.

How well seeds will perform depends upon their ancestry. If they are pure bred, you can put your faith in them just as you can expect things from a purebred horse or cow. For, "blood will tell" in the garden every time.

Ferry's purebred Seeds have a splendid ancestry. We have been watching their parent plants for generations—a history of sixty-nine years of vigilance. Every plant that does not grow strictly true to name and type is rogued out. Then after harvest, more extensive trials are made at our experimental gardens than anywhere else in the United States, to determine that Ferry's purebred Seeds will reproduce true to type.

This precaution has been taken so you can look upon a packet of Ferry's purebred Seeds with faith that they will produce abundantly and true to variety, form, size and color. Such assurance as this makes gardening pay. As you sow the seeds and care for the growing plants, there is a sound foundation for your harvest hopes instead of guesswork.

Get your assortment of Ferry's purebred Seeds now. Buy them "at the store around the corner" from the familiar Ferry Box. Remember that the name Ferry stands for pure bred always.

TRAGEDY OF ERRORS
The tax fight at Madison is now nothing more than a public scandal. There is no intelligence or sense or justice in anything that is done. The legislators who want to turn our tax laws inside out have become like a lot of squawking, hair-pulling children. They are too absurd to be even comical. When we view what is going on down there with reference to taxation we wonder how any sound legislation can emanate from such a body. Indeed, we question very much whether it can. An aggregation of law-makers which reverses itself every few days and whose leaders do not know where they are at or what they are for for twenty-four consecutive hours, is about as competent to enact tax legislation as a plumber would be to weave an oriental rug.

Where does the administration really stand? In the midst of this purposeless scrimmage it maintains a discreet silence. Nobody has the slightest idea what it favors or opposes. Three weeks ago we had a bill loading taxes onto the income producer at a great rate and overwhelming the small merchant and manufacturer. It was heralded as the "administration bill." It removed the personal offset, gave the state a juicy slice of increased taxation and added a fourth tax on dividends. This proposal, which was trotted out with all majesty by the governor's spokesmen and a long-nosed California professor, withstood the storm of protest for about a week.

After various delays and formation shifts, the bill was virtually abandoned and a new "administration" scheme brought in. It changed the percentage of income taxes apportioned to the state and local bodies, added a sugar-coated pill of 6 per cent chocolate to ease the effects of the offset removal nux vomica and abandoned the fourth tax on dividends. It was submitted with a blare of trumpets and pronounced the acme of progressive political wisdom. The senate paved over the measure several days without the slightest understanding of the causes or effects of the amendments and then turned it over to three socialists for the finishing touches. The socialists injected their mysterious ingredients into the mixture and it was finally passed. It was a great bill, a compendium of super-progressivism, socialism, professorism and horseplay.

The third scene is set in the house, or the assembly as we call it in this state. The chariot drivers and cup bearers from the senate bring over the product of its composite wisdom and deposit it on the speaker's desk. There it lies, a package filled with dynamite. When it is finally opened up pandemonium instantly reigns. It is no tax bill at all. The house knows a tax bill when it sees it, and after a hysterical afternoon and evening, in which tax principles are laid down with fists and a waving of arms, it rejects in toto the cross word puzzle handed over by the senate, and goes back to first principles. It is a tragic scene, lacking only thunder and lightning to make it truly Shakespearean. When the ship barely escapes the rocks and the women and children are all saved, it is found the administration is opposed to the measure brought in two weeks ago, and is for the bill it thought it was for before it changed its mind. If anyone can tell where the administration now stands and what it is all about, we would like to be enlightened. Charlie Chaplin has nothing on the Wisconsin legislature. Taxation is a wonderful science at Madison, about as much so as at Hollywood. It is science reduction ad absurdum.

ENFORCE IT OR DROP IT
It is announced from Washington that the federal prohibition authorities will investigate the two Wisconsin senators who publicly declared they were violating the dry law and defied arrest. The government could not permit a challenge of this kind to go unnoticed. These senators may not be any different than other members of the legislature and many public officials of Wisconsin and other states and of the federal administration itself who are violating the law, yet they stand in a different light by their admission.

We have reached the point in our national resistance to prohibition where there must be a showdown one way or the other. If the law is to be openly defied by men of prominence and public officials, it will soon be no longer necessary for the rank and file to hide their booze or to meet their bootleggers surreptitiously.

Prohibition must be made so in fact if it is to survive. We cannot keep it on the statute books with national self-respect and tolerate its open transgression. Neither can we reconcile ourselves to its acceptance so long as it is in point of fact a dead letter.

We may deceive ourselves into believing it is a good thing to keep the law as it is and make the best of its wholesale violation, arguing that its benefits outweigh its evils, but if we do this we are overlooking the paramount issue, which is respect for law and the majesty of law. The wets are becoming bolder every day. They are repealing the Volstead act in practice much faster, we fear, than the federal government and the prohibitionists realize.

WHEELER'S INDICTMENT
Senator Burton K. Wheeler, Montana Democrat, has been indicted by the District of Columbia grand jury on the charge of conspiring to obtain illegally "the use of land of Montana which was part of the public domain of the United States."

There will be no desire anywhere to pass judgment on this indictment until the case is tried and a verdict rendered. The finding of an indictment, however, goes to sustain former District Attorney Stone in his contention that Senator Wheeler's activities in connection with Montana lands were a proper subject of investigation in the District of Columbia. It also on the surface appears to justify the part he had taken in keeping the case alive.

So much politics is involved in the cases, in Montana and the District of Columbia, both for and against Mr. Wheeler, that it is difficult for partisans to view the controversy dispassionately, and yet the public will keep an open mind. It will be hard to believe that Senator Wheeler deliberately entered into a conspiracy to violate the law or to do a wrong. The people will prefer to think that if there has been a violation it was more technical and inadvertent than real. They will hope that this will prove to be the case.

Nevertheless, there was nothing for the government to do but go through with the matter, both in justice to itself and Senator Wheeler. In the beginning it looked as though the move against Mr. Wheeler was in reprisal for his prosecution of the charges against former Attorney-General Daugherty. A trial will afford an opportunity for a full disclosure of the facts.

TODAY'S POEM

RELIEF.
I'll grant you it isn't a feeling that's great when you look on a task that's before you. That's why it's so easy to wait till too late, with a thing that you know's gonna bore you.
How better, by far, everybody would be if they'd suddenly lose track of worry. Accomplishment's something that's pleasant to see, and the best of it comes without flurry.
Why is it the world keeps on moving along? Why is it that living's worth while? The answer's in doing what's right, and not wrong, and then doing what's right with a smile.
It's human to get a real kick out of work, though the way to succeed may seem hazy. You're that much ahead when you plug 'stead of shirk; when you're really ambitious, not lazy.
Go on, do your fraction 'over where you are gettin' but plug, and you won't come to grief. The up and a-doin', and not constant stewing, is what really leads to relief.

THE PHOSPHORUS IN US.
A man or woman contains 1 1/2 pounds of phosphorus, maybe a grain or two over that amount when taking a nerve tonic. The phosphorus in the nerve tonic is readily utilized by the system, whether it is in organic or inorganic form whether it is in the compound called hypophosphite of glycerophosphate or sodium phosphate or phosphoric acid or lecithin or what not, as is the phosphorus present in such foods as milk, lean beef, egg yolk, cheese, unmlled wheat, oatmeal, beans, turnips or peanuts. But people who believe in Santa Claus and catch cold like to take their phosphorus in pill form because the beefsteak and peanuts do not come in such impressive wrappings.

The allusion to "nerve tonic" in the preceding paragraph is a joke. The joke is not mine, though I do think it is funny. The joke is the nostrum manufacturer's own joke on the gullible layman. The notion that phosphorus or any compound or derivative of it has anything to do with the nerves or the nervous system or nervous energy or mental efficiency or intellectual capacity or anything like that is just almanac bunk, a suggestion propagated for the sole purpose of separating the wiseheimer from his money. I blush to confess that the medical profession has played the sorry role of go-between or agent in this particular exploitation of popular credulity, for a lot of badly educated doctors have been guilty of prescribing or dispensing various phosphorus containing nostrums as "nerve tonic" and taking money for the doubtful service. Seldom have the doctors who did so deliberately deceived their trusting patients; almost invariably it has been a case of ignorance and credulity on the part of the doctors themselves—they have taken seriously the representations made by the nostrum manufacturers, for there is a rather large class of doctors still so unenlightened as to look to these proprietary interests for scientific information which they should seek in other sources. The trouble is they are so popular and so busy in practice that they can't see the necessity for taking the time or trouble to read scientific journals or scientific books to keep in touch with the real scientific progress of medicine.

The main purpose served by phosphorus in the human economy is to keep the blood and protoplasm of the tissues neutral or faintly alkaline in spite of the constant production of acid by-products in metabolism.
The phosphorus in the body is distributed chiefly to the teeth and bones (about 600 grams). The muscles contain 56 grams (less than two ounces). And the brain and all the nerve tissues combined contain only about five grams. So you see the notion that phosphorus "builds" brain or nerve tissue or is a "nerve tonic" is ridiculous. Anyhow, if anybody needs phosphorus the foods I have mentioned (as well as several I have not mentioned) will furnish all that is needed and in the best form for assimilation by the body.

This does not comprise the whole of the story of phosphorus in physiology or nutrition, but I assure the reader that there is no important mystery left untold.

Copper.
Is it dangerous to drink water that runs through lead pipes? This is the second letter I have written to you in reference to this question. My husband says I must hand a self-addressed stamped envelope if I expect an answer. If that is the case I will buy paper no longer. (Mrs. G. G. E.)
Answer.—There is no danger in drinking water that has passed through or stood in a copper container. I am sorry you decline to buy the paper any longer. Quite a few people buy it just to see what fool thing I'll say next, if for no other reason. I recall having answered your question recently, though I can't remember now who asked it.

Saturday Sermon
Just where the Y. M. C. A. fits into the program for upbuilding of Christianity in America and other nations is shown in part in the following article by P. Whitwell Wilson, which was submitted to the Post-Crescent for publication by George F. Werner, secretary of Appleton Y. M. C. A. The association has reached out in many ways to help spread christian influence and has been a help to thousands of foreigners as well as the people of this country.
Mr. Wilson says:
The Y. M. C. A. is the home of the man who has left home. But it is not merely a club by day and a dormitory by night. It is not, like a hotel, a commercial proposition. Its members are brought into a fellowship. They learn that life is more than eating and sleeping and earning, more than the swimming pool and the gymnasium, more than a course at college.
There are 10,000 foreign students in the United States. Many have come from the Orient believing that here they will see the christian faith in operation. The Y. M. C. A. provides trained advisers of their own language and race, who form them into congenial groups, help them in their perplexities and surround them with an environment of friendship. There is much in western countries that distasteful, therefore, is a contact which furnishes them with true hospitality.
REACHES EVERYWHERE
The Y. M. C. A. stands for the principle that what is has found to be the abundant life must be offered to the world. In China and Japan, in Latin America, in the Philippines, in India and in the Near East, there are leading statesmen, merchants, educators, to whom the ideal of a clean and healthy manhood has made an irresistible appeal. In the Y. M. C. A. they see an invaluable instrument of physical, mental and moral hygiene. Evidences of this demand for the Y. M. C. A. are overwhelming.
As the Y. M. C. A. is the ally of the churches at home, so is it the ally of the foreign mission abroad. The Student Volunteer Missionary movement, developed by the Y. M. C. A., has recruited thousands of men and women from colleges and universities who have brought youth and health and education to the task of evangelizing our race. If the spread of the gospel, of a more abundant life for all nations, interests a rising generation, the reason is largely the efforts, direct and indirect, of the Y. M. C. A.
Christianity, as a label, is not forced on Moslem, Hindu and Confucian, but is clearly revealed as a life. Within the walls of the Y. M. C. A. men of all faiths are welcome. But there is only one faith big enough to offer such a welcome.

GOVERN THEMSELVES
In other countries, as in the United States, the Y. M. C. A. has been established as far as possible on an autonomous foundation. China, Japan, India, the Philippines—they all have their own staffs, largely consisting of their own nationals. And much of the money invested in their buildings is raised by these nations themselves. The Y. M. C. A. is thus a university in self government free from graft, favoritism and other corruption. For the good name of the United States in other continents, there is here a true generation. In the Y. M. C. A. North America discloses her best.
If the Y. M. C. A. has been criticized, it has only been because during the war there was set upon its shoulders, by the American government and people an almost impossible burden. And it must not be forgotten that, as a result of these unprecedented efforts, the American "Y" has continued in many European cities, a permanent force for all that contributes to true democracy.
The Y. M. C. A., having played its part in winning the war, is not un-

LETTER FROM LESLIE PRESCOTT TO MRS. MARY ALDEN PRESCOTT

I really have had no time to write you since I received your letter. I hope you will forgive me for this delay.

I expect you will be more apt to do this for by this time you have heard from Miss Anderson that directly upon receipt of your letter, I wired her asking her if she would not go back to you. She answered that she would be glad to do so, if I could promise that she would not be bothered with Priscilla Bradford. This I took the liberty of doing.

I also told Miss Anderson that you would probably be going back to your home very soon and she had said that she would prefer a place in the country. I did this because I thought you would want to be among your old friends instead of at a strange hotel after Jack and I have moved over here.

John has been signally honored by my father in his will. He has also been made manager of the steel plant and we feel that this is his great opportunity. Consequently we will come over here and make this place our home as soon as possible.

He will probably be back in Albany before you get this letter and tell you all the details.

I am very glad that Mrs. Burke, getting on my wire, did not allow that beautiful old desk which you so generously gave me on my marriage, to be taken to pieces. You should have known that it is almost impossible to get a modern cabinet-maker to renovate and restore those beautiful old pieces.

I must say in all kindness that I think both you and Miss Bradford overstepped all bounds of propriety in going into my apartment in my absence, or on any excuse whatever, presuming to look over and pry into my personal belongings.

I never want to see Miss Bradford again. She is a curious, meddling, old maid and when ever she is with you she seems in some way to make you feel that everyone is against you when you ought to know that all of us are trying to make you happy and comfortable. You should be one of the happiest women in the world.

I may as well tell you that I shall not interfere at all in regard to Mrs.

Burke's behavior toward you. Personally I think she did just right and I am very grateful to her for looking after my interests.

I am very sorry, Mother Prescott, to have to write this letter, but I must put myself right for this once. You must in the future understand that while I shall regard you as Jack's mother I shall allow no interference in my personal affairs. Little Jack is very well. John will tell you about my father's bequest to him. I gave mother your message. She is bearing up wonderfully under her great sorrow. Nothing has been decided about where we are to live over here except that mother will not live with us. She says "no home is big enough for two families."

Sincerely,
LESLIE.

LITTLE INTEREST IN SPRING RACE FOR CITY OFFICE

Most of Present City Officers Are Without Opposition for Reelection

Kaukauna—According to indications this city will have a quiet election this year. The scramble for city offices which was expected has not materialized and most of those already on the job will be without opposition. The date for filing nomination papers has passed.

H. T. Runtz and Lester J. Brenzel are the only candidates for positions on the school board. N. D. Schwin, justice of the peace on the north side and Elliot E. Zekind on the south side also will be without opposition.

Frank A. Kern is a candidate for alderman in the first ward against incumbent O. C. Berndt. Charles J. Faust, county supervisor from that ward, again is in the field and will be opposed by John H. Nissen.

Walter Cooper has a clear field for reelection to the council in the second ward. John C. Mitchell and Charles Wendt, incumbent, will race for the supervisor's job.

In the third ward F. W. Wiggers is the only candidate for alderman and John Schmidt is alone as a candidate for the county board. In the fourth ward William Doring is out for reelection to the council and A. P. Anderson is seeking a reappointment to the county board.

The fifth ward race promises to be interesting. E. Q. Wittmann, present alderman, will be opposed by Frank Geritz. The fifth ward is the smallest in the city. Fred Reichel will be without opposition as a county board candidate.

SHEARER-NAGEL TOGETHER AGAIN IN "EXCUSE ME"
Norma Shearer and Conrad Nagel renew screen acquaintances in "Excuse Me." Rupert Hughes' Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production which is showing at the Elite Theatre today and Sunday. They are the hero and heroine of a story that sparks with farcical situations which take place on a trans-continental train.
The last time the two players appeared together was in Monta Bell's "The Sign of the Cross." In "Excuse Me" they both had their first fling at comedy, and both had the time of their lives making the picture.
Others in the cast are Renee Adoree, Walter Hiers, John Boles, Bert Roach, William V. Mong, Edith Yorke and Eugene Cameron.
"Excuse Me" is a screen version of the stage farce by Mr. Hughes, which was one of the most successful of its kind in theatrical history. Alf Goulding directed.

O'HARA OCCUPIES UNIQUE POSITION IN THE THEATRE
Fiske O'Hara, who will play here at the Appleton Theatre direct from a three months' Chicago run, is a unique institution in theatricals. He occupies the position of the actor-singer, a sort of intimate entertainer who steps out of his actor role and gets chummy with his audience. Every year he has new songs and he sometimes sings an old one by request. Nobody else has occupied a similar position except Chauncey Olcott.
The company is full of good singers and we have many good actors, but how many could do the thing Fiske O'Hara has been doing for the last fifteen years? Many of our singers after gaining a little repute get "up stage" and prefer the concert field. They hold themselves aloof from the theatrical audience. But not so with Fiske. Last season he planned taking up concert work for a change, but the call of his old friends on the road was too strong. He prefers the more intimate form of entertaining—reaching out over the footlights, as it were and shaking hands with his friends.
Because of this friendly attitude, Mr. O'Hara has won a following that is the envy of the Broadway stars.
Be sure to see Fiske O'Hara and Miss Pat Clary in "The Big Mogul," Wednesday, April 1.

GIRL LOVES TWO MEN
IN NEW SCREEN DRAMA
The strange love of a girl for a man married to another, despite the true love she bore for her husband, provides the theme of one of the most powerful photodramas ever filmed—"Enticement"—which is coming soon to the Elite Theatre Monday, for a 3 day engagement. It is a First National attraction produced by the Thomas H. Ince Corporation and directed by George Archambault, with Mary Astor, Ian Keith, and Clive Brook in the featured roles. The film is based on the novel by Clive Arden, who has contrived an unusually intriguing and compelling plot.

Undoubtedly the outstanding quality of "The Net," the drama of mystery and thrills produced by William Fox is its tremendous dramatic strength. This emotional drama which was adapted from the successful play by Maravone Thompson, will be shown at the New Bijou Theatre, Monday and Tuesday. In book form the story was known as "The Woman's Law" and was then adapted for the stage by Miss Thompson.
One of the handsomest settings shows the interior and exterior of a wealthy artist's studio which had been remodeled from an old church. Sudden enveloping tragedy in this room throws the net of circumstances about a young mother and forces her to choose between casting the shadow of crime over her child or of condemning an innocent man to prison for life. Your interest will be firmly held until the very last scene flickers from the screen as this tangle in three human lives is straightened out.

PUBLIC IN NEED OF EDUCATION IN CAREFUL BUYING

Price Indicates Prices Are Going Up, Babson Points Out

Babson Park, Fla. — Prices have again turned upward. Various commodity indices and the cost of living figures show that the average is rising. The question as to the effect of this tendency on general business was put today to Roger W. Babson, the statistician and economist. "The first effect of rising prices is a stimulant to business," says the statistician. "When things start to go up the people who have been waiting to buy. Manufacturers also stock up with materials. As the movement continues, however, the same tendency becomes a brake on business. When prices get above the level that most people consider fair value, they stop buying altogether. As a matter of fact the average buyer goes at the thing in haphazard fashion.

"Statistics have their uses but also their abuses. The cost of living indices are useful to the statistician; but are often dangerous in the hands of the layman. Fisher's index is probably the best price index in existence today weighted scientifically. Even this, however, must be used with discretion. When the Fisher, the Bradstreet, or any other price index shows an increase it should be remembered that this applies only to the average of all commodities. When we purchase commodities we do not buy the average list, but we buy specific articles. Therefore, although it is well to watch Fisher's index, yet the important thing when purchasing is to study the position of the specific commodity or article which one is purchasing.

"Numerous illustrations might be given showing that although the general Price Index has risen, all prices have not risen. For instance, one can obtain more actual value for a dollar today when purchasing an automobile than at any previous time in history. Not only are the automobiles lower priced, but the quality, durability, and efficiency are being materially increased. This does not mean that automobiles may not be further reduced in price. They probably will be as time goes on, but even at the same price one will be getting more in actual value in 1925 than in any previous year. This same fact applies to tires, oil, gasoline, batteries and practically all accessories connected with this growing industry.

"Another illustration of lowering prices is the electric current which we use for lighting, power and other purposes. While the securities of light and power companies have been going up, the price of the commodity itself has been going down. In this respect, the electric power business is just the opposite of the telephone business. The cost of the latter increases per unit as the telephone subscribers increase in number; but the cost of electric power decreases per unit as the amount used increases. Electricity for light and power is being bought for less today than in any time in its history, and even lower prices will be introduced in many communities during 1925. Among the household commodities there is sugar which everyone uses and which is selling for less today, with the exception of late 1921 and early 1922, than it has for nine years. Other illustrations might be given such as these to show the point in mind.

"The above products are cheaper owing to definite fundamental tendencies, but in addition there are many commodities that are lower today because of seasonal and other temporary reasons. When taking a list of 104 commodities which are the basis of one of the price indices, we find 44 commodities selling for less than they did a year ago. Among these may be mentioned, Fruits, Chemicals and Drugs, Textiles, Cotton and Silk, Coal and Coke, Naval Stores—Turpentine, Building Materials.

"Without doubt the American people need to be educated in connection with buying. The advertisement

Forecast Brief Period Of Business Irregularity

BY JOHN F. FLINN
New York — Those conditions now observable in business justify the forecast of a period of irregularity in business in the next two or three months with a marked lack of trend in any direction, to be followed by a brief stretch of recession.

The recent sharp setback in the grain and stock markets suggests the timeliness of an appraisal of business fundamentals. The conditions which generally prevail just before a real business crisis develops are somewhat as follows: Bank reserves are low and money rates are high. One or more of several maladjustments in business are found among which the following may be mentioned: (a) Maladjustment in the prices of various commodities, (b) Prices out of line with money wages, (c) Funds inadequate for an expanded volume of business, (d) Wholesale trade too great in comparison with retail trade, (e) Production in basic industries too great in comparison with sales. Speculative buying of merchandise is also likely to exist. Often labor shortage is found, and transportation facilities are frequently overburdened.

Finally, stock commodities are large and growing, while unfilled orders are generally declining and cancellations are often common. At present most of the foregoing dangerous symptoms are lacking. Money and credit may be said to be abundant and interest rates are not high. There has recently been less maladjustment in prices than has existed for some time. Retail trade has held up considerably better than wholesale trade. There is still unemployment instead of labor shortage; and the transportation machine is working with unusual adequacy. But it must be recognized that at a few points the symptoms of an unhealthy industrial situation may be found. Among the chief of these may be mentioned the following:

(1) Speculative excesses in grain, wool, and securities.
(2) Overproduction in a number of important industries, including iron and copper.
(3) Stocks of basic commodities in first hands are large and growing.

The net conclusion from this brief survey is that conditions are not such as to indicate the probability of any major business recession, but that which attracts them into the store has been developed until it can be depended upon for almost certain results. The sales person is carefully and thoroughly trained. The selling of goods has become a fine science; but very little has been done to help the public to buy intelligently.

As a result of this people buy everything when they are flush, and then stop almost entirely and buy as little as possible. This is one cause of our successive periods of prosperity and depression. The average buyer, whether a man or a woman, is a good deal like the brakeman on a railroad train. If some lone passenger suggests that the car is too cool the brakeman turns on all the heat and shuts the ventilators. The car stays that way until some one suggests that the car is getting too warm; then the brakeman turns off all the heat and opens wide the ventilators.

"There is always some commodity or article that is too high and careful buyers restrict their purchases of such a product until it comes down in price. On the other hand, there is always some article that is selling around normal or even below the cost of production. Certain lines of shoes are an illustration of such an article today. When such a condition exists, careful buyers will purchase all they need at some time to come, even though the Price Index, which is the average for all articles, is higher than ever. Such a sensible policy on the part of the buyers would do much to cut down the dangerous peaks of over expansion and fill in the valley of depression. Moreover, these erratic conditions must be eliminated if we are to have business really healthy, happy and prosperous.

"Nearly every week I have referred to the Babsonchart as the best index of business conditions when considering all sections of the country and all lines of business. We, as readers, will remember that the Babsonchart was 5 per cent above normal in the spring of 1923 and was 5 per cent below normal in the fall of that year. During 1924 it has varied from 5 per cent below normal to 8 per cent above normal, and today stands at 3 per cent above normal. Letters are continually coming to me asking if it is not possible to eliminate these erratic changes. Some of these letters blame the changes on to the bankers and others on to the manufacturers. It is wrong, however, to blame either of these groups. No banker enjoys turning down a borrower, and no manufacturer purposely closes down his mill thus throwing people out of employment. This is done because we and our families quit buying. The peaks and valleys of the Babsonchart are due to the erratic buying habits of the American people. Hence, I appeal to buyers to change their present policy of buying everything in sight in one year and then instituting great economy the next. Try to both spend and save a reasonable amount of money every year, seeking out those things which are the best purchases for the time being. This would lay the foundation for a real period of prosperity from which everyone would ultimately benefit."

BIG BUILDINGS ARE EVIDENCE OF FIRM'S ABILITY

C. R. Meyer and Sons Co. Has Wide Reputation as Building Contractor

Several of the largest and most elaborate buildings in Appleton and the Fox river valley have been built by the C. R. Meyer and Sons Construction Co. of Oshkosh, one of the pioneer building concerns of the middle west. C. R. Meyer, president of the company, has been in the contracting business for about a half century and in his time has seen enormous developments in his industry. Mr. Meyer has practically retired from active work and the active members of his company are H. H. Jackson, vice president Edward H. Meyer, treasurer, and Harry D. Meyer, secretary.

Among the many big buildings the company has erected in Appleton are St. Elizabeth hospital, Lawrence Memorial chapel, Russell Sage dormitory and the Masonic temple. The company also built several of the large papermills on the waterpower. While the company is prepared to erect buildings for any purpose it is intensely interested in mill construction and in hydroelectric plant building. It has constructed numerous large dams and its engineers have wide experience in this type of work.

The organization maintained by the company is always ready for emergency work, such as repairing dams and bridges and has taken a large number of large jobs that required immediate action. Expert engineers are in the employ of the company which has equipment for all kinds of construction work.

LUMBER MARKET PICKS UP AS WEATHER IMPROVES

The mild weather which has prevailed during the last few weeks practically throughout the North and East has enabled contractors to start much new building, and increased deliveries from retail yards have stimulated wholesale trade. The movement, however, has not yet gathered full momentum, and the market can be no means be called active. Another couple of weeks of favorable weather will be required before long expected improvement will set in. The American Lumberman, Chicago.

The southern pine market has firmed up somewhat with the increase in business, but there is still considerable competition for new orders, especially among the smaller operators. So that prices are spotty. The large mills are counting confidently on a greatly expanded business in April, and are holding firmly on their previous lists. Transit cars meanwhile are less plentiful, and there is less pressure from this source. The tone of the market, taken as a whole, is stronger, and distributors expect some price advances, notably on inch No. 2 common and long joists.

The Douglas fir mills recently reported an encouraging increase in demand from rail territory, due to the better weather. California also appears to be slightly more active, but the Atlantic coast market is slow. Exports are of about normal volume, and the outlook is for a steady foreign trade during the next few months. There is not much Douglas fir available, as the mills are operating on a four to five day basis and are accumulating little or no stock. Prices being firmly held, and the manufacturers regard the outlook as entirely satisfactory, counting especially on building construction for their spring business.

The hardwood market has shown no change, but remains quiet and exceedingly spotty as to price.

COUZENS' PROBE INTO TREASURY ISN'T OVER YET

Republicans on Investigating Committee Try to Hush Up Inquiry

BY CHARLES P. STEWART
Washington—Of course Mount Pelée, never really was extinct. It was supposed to be, but as a matter of fact the molten lava and the prison gas and all the other terrible forces which were to wreck such havoc when finally they broke loose, were just bottled up inside.

On the surface everything was peace and perfect loveliness—and then her-floey! with the worst bang in the memory of the oldest inhabitant, the mountain's entire contents flew miles and miles up into the air.

The Couzens investigation of the internal revenue bureau of the Treasury Department has acted just like that.

There was a slight eruption at the start. The administration senators didn't want any investigation into one of the administration's own departments. They were aware some mighty unpleasant stuff certainly would be dug up.

Possibly they weren't particularly worried about income taxes but the prohibition unit is one of the subdivisions of the internal revenue bureau and only very unsophisticated people are ignorant of the fact that the prohibition unit can't undergo investigation with any advantage to itself.

WANTED IT DROPPED
However, the administration senators weren't in control. The Progressive-Democratic alliance was investigations just suited the alliance's book.

Nevertheless, the administration forces did manage to get two of their own men on the committee—Senators Watson and Ernst.

Senators Jones of New Mexico and Senator King were the Democratic members. As Democrats, they have been in favor of the inquiry, but not especially enthusiastic about it, as Senator Couzens, the fifth member and real investigator, was.

The job of Senators Watson and Ernst was to put the "hush" on the inquiry.

They took a perfunctory look into the situation and then announced that there didn't seem to them to be anything to investigate.

They suggested—insisted, indeed—that the whole thing be dropped. Senators Couzens, Jones and King wouldn't stand for this. There was considerable squabbling. That was the eruption referred to.

Then things quieted down. Senators Watson and Ernst hadn't succeeded in putting the internal fire out, but they had succeeded in stepping up the vent.

OFF FLEW THE LID
Perhaps this was bad business. Fires boiling inside, with no safety valve, gather tremendous force. These fires did. The other day they blew the whole top of the investigation volcano off.

Like this:
Senator Couzens said the treasury had let certain big corporations off to the tune of hundreds of millions of dollars of income taxes they ought to have paid.

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon said Senator Couzens was between 10 and 11 millions "shy" on income tax payments himself.

Senator Couzens said Secretary Mellon was trying to scare him into dropping his investigation.

Senator Ernst said Senator Couzens was persecuting Secretary Mellon—and unjustly too.

Senator Couzens said "prohibition unit agents have been in touch with" Senator Ernst "hour by hour," that records of the investigating committee "have disappeared" and "been lost" and that "undoubtedly" the prohibition agents "were informed by the senator from Kentucky, so that they might do these things."

Senator Ernst then asked the Senate's permission to call another senator—guess who—"a willful, malicious liar."

If that isn't eruption, what is? More will be heard of the Couzens investigation yet.

SEEK MORE MUSICIANS FOR SAXOPHONE BAND

The strength of the American Legion Saxophone band which recently gave its first concert with splendid success will be slightly increased, and Capt. Fred B. Rogers, director, is ready to consider applications for membership.

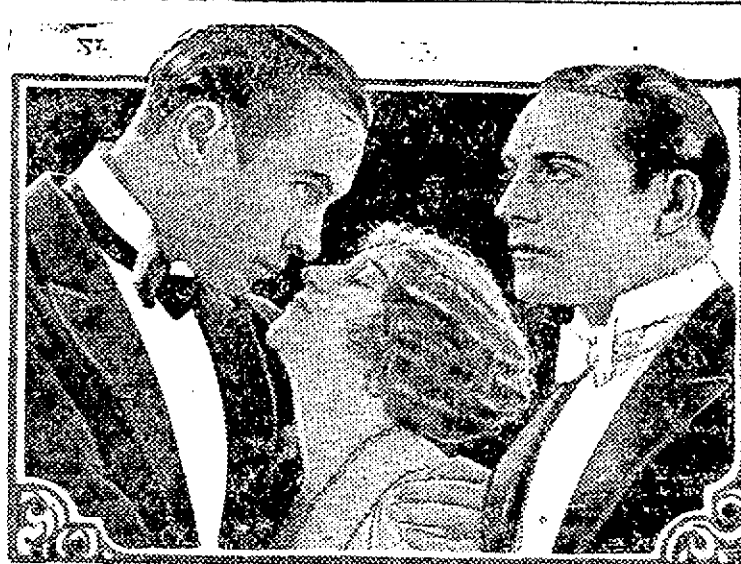

Players of B flat soprano, C soprano, B flat tenor and E flat baritone saxophones are desired. Membership is open not only to legion members but also persons outside the legion. Those contemplating obtaining saxophones with a view to joining the band are requested to interview Capt. Rogers so that instruments of the proper pitch are selected.

Rehearsals in march formation will commence shortly in preparation for the outdoor appearance of the band. George Dame will act as drum major.

JUNCTION BAGGAGEMAN TRANSFERRED TO NEENAH

John Rankin, former baggageman of the Chicago and Northwestern at Appleton Junction, has been relieved of his duties there and transferred to Neenah, where he assumed his new duties Friday night. The transfer was made in accordance with a general reduction in forces all along the line because of the lull in passenger traffic that is resulting from the opening of highways and the consequent stimulus to automobile traffic.

On Wednesday a special train bearing W. H. Finley, president of the C. & N. W., and a party of other road officials passed through Appleton Junction enroute to Escanaba, Mich., and other northern points. The president and his officials are making a tour of inspection of the northern division.

$751 CONTRIBUTED TO DATE FOR RELIEF

Churches Expected to Help Raise Funds for Storm Sufferers at Services Sunday

Nine more contributions were received up to noon Saturday for the tornado relief fund which is being collected by the chamber of commerce for devastated cities of Illinois and Indiana. This brings the total up to $751.08, representing all the money contributed thus far.

It is expected the total will reach $1,000 by Monday, inasmuch as many of the churches intend to cooperate in the relief campaign. Pastors are asked to make the announcement Sunday and take special collections if possible.

All donations are requested by Monday night, as the chamber of commerce wants to remit the remainder of the money from this county to the American Red Cross Tuesday.

RURAL MAILMEN WARN CARS OFF DIRT ROADS

Motorists are warned to keep off the Ballard road near Apple Creek, according to rural mail carriers, because of its extremely soft and boggy condition. The roads leading out of Apple Creek on the south and south-east, it is said, are almost impassable, and an average of one car an hour has been held there for the past few days.

The road from Macksville to Center township on Highway 47, also is said to be in poor condition, so that the residents there are debating whether to bar heavy traffic until the frost is out.

Checks are to be made payable to "Tornado Relief Fund."

Those who have contributed since Friday's report are: The Rev. W. J. Abe, R. Y. Clark, G. A. Zuehlke, Mortgage Co., Maria Trantmann, Dr. A. E. Rector, H. L. Davis, Miss Anna Knorr, Emerson Turley, Jr., and Karl A. Schuetter.

START ERECTION OF RIDING ACADEMY

Appleton Construction Co. has been awarded the contract for the construction of the new 1925 riding academy on S. Onida-st here and will start work Monday. The excavation work has been completed.

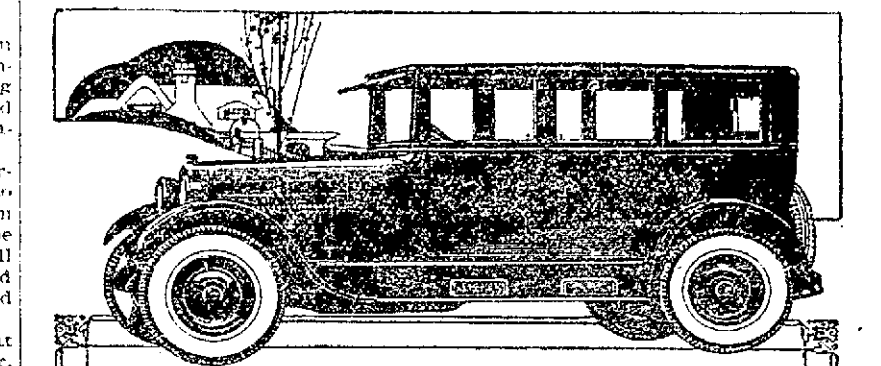

The new building will be two stories high in the front, and will be so arranged that the stables will be on street level, while the arena will be on the second floor. The building will be 50 feet wide by 124 feet long, and will be the most modern of its kind north of Chicago, it is claimed.

There will be stable room for at least 24 mounts in the ground floor. The foundation will be built of concrete blocks, the walls will be of tile, and the building will be fireproof in every respect, with steel trusses to give strength to the roof.

FISHERMAN CAUGHT ON LAKE WHEN ICE STARTS TO FLOAT

Forced to Make Long Detour to Get Out of Precarious Position

Menasha—While fishing through the ice on Lake Winnebago Thursday, Jack Ambroski, a member of the fire department, noticed that the ice began moving out in the lake and when he tried to get to shore near Brighton beach he found a wide stretch of open water. He was not aware that the ice was cracking until he observed that a wide crack extending from the Clay Banks to Lime Kiln point, a distance of several miles, was closing up.

Gathering up his fish which consisted of eight pike he started for shore. Instead of landing at Brighton beach, where he got on the ice several hours earlier in the day he was compelled to walk to the Clay Banks at the north end of the lake in order to reach land.

On his long hike he passed close to the fishing shanty that is being tossed about by the open water. He said it belonged to two Appleton young men who put it together on the ice and who abandoned it some time before it fell prey to the wind and water. It was constructed of heavy lumber and has drifted several miles toward the north end of the lake.

POOR LEADERSHIP
COST G. O. P. RULE
IN UPPER HOUSE

Moderate Progressive Alienated
by Punishment of LaFollette Group

BY CHARLES P. STEWART
Washington.—From President Coolidge's standpoint, the 69th Congress is going to be little, if any, improvement on the 68th. The Senate's defeat of his appointment of Charles B. Warren as attorney general proved it.

Just as in the 68th Congress, a small group of "insurgents" will hold the balance of power between Republicans and Democrats in the 69th.

Thus they will be able to hold up administration legislation, to pass a certain amount of anti-administration legislation, which will be vetoed of course, but will be a nuisance nevertheless, and perhaps keep a batch of embarrassing investigations in progress all the time.

This may not be true of the House, but it will be true of the Senate. The turning down of one of his cabinet appointments is about the hardest wallon it is possible to land on a president. The lawmaking body which is capable of doing that is capable of anything.

The Republican managers brought the situation on themselves. It was their idea that the last election had given them a clear, dependable Senate majority. And so it did. True, there were four senators—La Follette, Brookhart, Frazier and Ladd—who were elected as Republicans whom the Republicans couldn't count on.

REPUBLICANS STILL AHEAD
But even leaving them out of consideration there still was a Republican majority. This majority, to be sure, included several moderate liberals, but not liberal enough to be long in the "insurgent" class. In all things reasonable they were named to "play" the Republican game.

What's more, it was understood that the Democrats weren't going to cooperate. In the 68th Congress, with the "insurgents" in blocking Republican plans.

And then, with everything in perfectly Republican good shape, the managers persisted in reading La Follette, Brookhart, Frazier and Ladd out of the party.

This instantly consolidated practically all moderately liberal sentiment on the "insurgent" side. As indicated by the vote on the Warren appointment, Borah, Couzens, Johnson, McMaster, Norbeck and Morris are definitely "off the reservation." In addition to La Follette, Brookhart, Frazier and Ladd.

La Follette was absent when the vote was taken. Brookhart, Frazier and Ladd undoubtedly would have voted against confirmation anyway. So, probably, would Couzens.

But is most unlikely Borah, Johnson, McMaster, Norbeck and Morris would have done so but for the punishment inflicted on the La Follette group.

GRINNING AT DAWES
Moreover, the Democrats promptly lent their aid to Republican "insurgency," with the single exception of Overman they voted against confirmation, and even Overman went over to the anti-administration side before the fight ended.

There were 16 absentees, too, and if they had been present, the administration's defeat would have been heavier still. Of the 16, 9—Dill, Edwards, Gerry, Glass, Jones of New Mexico, Kendrick, Smith, Stephens and Underwood—are Democrats, who almost certainly would have opposed confirmation.

Equally certain, so would La Follette, and perhaps Howell of the moderately liberal Republican element.

One grain of satisfaction even the Republican "regulars" got out of Warren's defeat—what happened to Charles G. Dawes.

None of them liked the way he lectured the Senate in his inaugural speech, on the importance of being "on the job" and expediting business.

He thought that, since the day had to be lost, it was lost because the vice president was asleep, instead of being on hand to break the initial tie vote, is comfort to many an otherwise sorely tried "regular" Republican senatorial soul.

LITTLE PAVING HERE BUT
EASTERN STATES ARE BUSY

Very little paving will be done in Wisconsin this year because of lack of money, but eastern states are embarking on heavy road building programs according to local contractors. Pennsylvania will build about 1,200 miles of new road in 1925 and New York expects to build 90 miles, it was said. Other eastern states also have extensive programs, but these two will cover the greatest mileage.

It is expected the work in Wisconsin will recover late this year and will be above normal in 1926. This is forecast on the strength of the gasoline tax law which goes into effect on April 1. It is expected this tax will bring in sufficient revenue to carry on a full program of paving, contractors here say, but meanwhile they look forward to the slowest season in many years.

A COUGH REMEDY WITHOUT OPiates

Many cough preparations contain some one or more harmful drugs which are added to take the place of opiates. None of these narcotic substitutes have ever been used in FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND. The name of every ingredient is plainly printed on every carton. You know what you are taking when you take Foley's. It clings to the throat. Good for old and young. You have a cough, why not try it. LAWRENCE SCHOLARSHIP
HIGHER THAN YEAR AGO

The scholarship averages at Lawrence college for the first quarter, 1924-25 are a trifle higher than those of last year, according to Olin Mead, college registrar. The average for the entire college was $2.44, as compared to $2.40 for the first quarter of 1923-24.

Kappa Delta again took first place among the sororities with an average of $7.20. Beta Phi Alpha, with $5.92, barely nosed out the Kappa Alpha Theta, last year's leaders, with an average of $5.79, for second place.

Phi Kappa Tau, which since its organization in 1920 has held first place among the fraternities, kept its lead with an average of $3.73. The big surprise of the figures is the jump of Phi Kappa Alpha from last place a year ago to second place this year with an average of $2.67 to nose out Beta Sigma Phi with an average of $2.52.

Special to the Post-Crescent

Madison — Showing championship form, featured by a fast offense and perfect floor work LaCrosse high school basketball team barely nosed out Coach George "Nig" Christophers speedy Neenah high quint by a 11 to 9 score in the semi-final game for the state prep cage title Friday evening at Madison. The game was featured by heady play and tight defenses on both sides, the half ending 7 to 6 for Neenah. A LaCrosse free throw at the start of the second period tied the score and LaCrosse dropped a basket and free throw to take a big lead before Neenah got its final finger. Weakness in making free throws lost the game for the Fox river valley school. Neenah scored four field goals to LaCrosse's two, but missed seven out of eight free tries, while the victors dropped seven out of eleven.

Neenah outclassed LaCrosse in shooting during the first three quarters, but four hard tries by the Christophers rolled out of the hoop in the last period. Neenah's offense was slow and uncertain at times, while LaCrosse showed great speed in this department, rushing the ball down the floor most of the time.

Still again started for Neenah, his last shot, a pretty try from beyond mid-floor, bringing the score to 9 to 11. He is picked as the best forward in the journey by Coach Meanwell of the Badgers. Miller, LaCrosse star forward, featured the play of the winners.

Neenah meets Beloit for third place Saturday night and Shawano hits LaCrosse in the big game as the result of a thrilling 16 to 15 victory for the Curliens.

FORMER CHAMPIONS TAKE DRIVES IN A. B. C. MEET

Buffalo, N. Y. — Thomas Brothers of Chicago, two-man champions and Jimmy Smith of Milwaukee Wis., winners of two all events championships bowl Saturday night in the five man event of the A. B. C. tournament.

There are many national, sectional and state champions on the drives this evening, among them the Zelzer Chocolates of Milwaukee who bowling under the name of the Nelson Mitchell, won the championship two years ago. Meyers Recreation five of Milwaukee, 1925 Wisconsin state title holders, W. Reppenhagen and E. Hartman winner of the central states two man title, and W. Roloff, who won the recent midwest tournament.

There is nothing extraordinary high for these champions to overtake. A score of 237 leads the five man event. The inter-city of New York with a total of 232 and the Lincoln life insurance company team of Fort Wayne, Ind., 1922 A. B. C. Champions who tallied 237, placed among the leaders Friday night.

MITCHELL HITS IN CLINCH AND LOSES TRICK TITLE

Detroit, Mich. — "Red" Herring, Gulfport, Miss., may be the junior welterweight champion of the United States. Pinkie Mitchell was disqualified in the sixth round of a fight with Herring here Friday night when after repeated warnings he failed to fight clean in the clinches.

In the sixth Referee "Slim" McClelland ordered the men to break. Herring dropped his arms to his sides. Mitchell caught him on the end of the chin with an uppercut. "Knocking him cold," McClelland promptly disqualified Mitchell and awarded the fight to Herring.

As Herring entered the ring at 133, both Referee McClelland and one of the judges gave it as their opinion he had acquired the title.

ANOTHER CUB STAR IS LOST THROUGH INJURY

Chicago — Calamity, which struck the Chicago Cubs two weeks ago when Rabbit Maranville broke his ankle, has scored off them again. Friday, Denver Grigsby, intended as a regular centerfielder broke his collar bone. He will not be able to play again until the middle of May.

The casualty occurred when the outfielder tried to spear a double in the second inning of the Cub's 5-4 victory over the Vernon club.

HARRIS GIVES VIEW ON SPRING SERIES WITH MAC'S GIANTS

Washington Still Worlds Champions, Win or Lose, Young Buckey Says

Tampa. — "The world series is won or lost in the fall."

That is the answer of Manager Stanley Harris of Washington to all the talk about the so-called "Coring" world series between the National and the Giants.

"We played New York for the 1924 world championship last October, and beat the Giants. They say we had the luck, perhaps we made much of it by fighting to the finish.

"Regardless of the outcome of these spring practice games with our rivals of last fall, the record books will always carry the information that Washington won the 1924 world series.

"Of course I want to beat the Giants. When I'm in any ball game, I play to win, am sore when I don't. If the Giants have the edge when our spring practice games are over it will be because they have played better ball, deserved to win.

"The spring series with the Giants was arranged by me because I knew it would fit my club for a hard race. McGraw's clubs always play real baseball.

"Incidentally, I realized it would mean much money for both clubs and give the fans of the country an opportunity to see the two pennant winners in action.

"The fact that there has been a sell-out in every city we have played is proof of the interest in the two teams.

"However, I refuse to take the final result seriously. I want to emerge the winner from the series, expect the fans of Washington to expect the world champs. This event is decided in the fall, not spring."

Dave's Dots And Dashes

Stung again! Well, we have decided not to pick a winner, but we're with Shawano as the district representative, to the finish. They say that every merchant in that red hot basketball town will give the Curliens a prize if they can't get the berries—stuffed that. They'll have enough shoes, clothes, etc., for ten years wear. The town is nuts and has a right to be. Cars rush up and down the main drag at all hours of the day and night bearing huge signs and dragging fifty feet of tin cans, kettles, etc. It's great to be a championship contender in anything.

We sure guessed right on one thing and that was free throws. Neenah missed them when they were needed and so the result, Appleton, when right, would have got 5 of the 10 shots, and we figured right on New Glarus! We said Appleton had lost to a strong team, but when Beloit beat them on an off night, our "gang" said it was all the bunk and gave us the hot jazz. Now they have licked Eau Claire and probably will play for third place tonight. Two right away.

A word from Roundy on the Appleton team: Appleton got beat again. Courtney is rather laid up with a ball on his neck. If this kid was in shape he would be the all-state forward. He has everything to be one. But due to being in bad shape he has to step out for some other player this year. He is the whole Appleton team. Ashman at center for a big fellow with weight and height don't turn out half the good ball he should. Bowly and Voecks for little fellows play a mighty hard game but can't get far as the Appleton team work is awful ragged.

We are in receipt of the following letter: Dear D. D. D.

(Well, I'm afraid you picked a loser when you picked Appleton to win the championship. Everyone at High School is wondering "Why?" May be you can explain, can you, why a team as good as ours made such a bloomin' punk showing? Oh, well, cheer up everyone, think of "next year" with Kneip, Pfefferle, Voecks, Cookson, Reetz and Ashman back. "Ours will be the victors." At least we darn much hope so.

Well, Mabel, of old! Here goes for a hold stop on our part. We really don't know why either after the way the boys went in the last game here, but here's our guess. Take it or leave it, all ye friends and kickers by remember, we're not trying to allude our predictions or "orange" gang one bit, they stand, but we shall try to answer the letters of every good contributor. Courtney was the only seasoned vet, left here with a marvelous ball on his neck. Outside of Cliff, the team is green, a light green. None of them had a minute of high school play until this year, which counts at a big turnover. Coming through a hard season in great shape by the spirit of the student body, is somewhat different with unseasoned material than playing for a STATE TITLE, before crowds of hostile "rooters" on a real floor against the pick of state high teams and two of the biggest "dark horses" ever in a state meet on the first two days especially when picked to win by the entire state. There how's that—get the point of that long "line"? Remember, folks, all other contrivances will be as gratefully received as this one.

LET'S GO SHAWANO-AYN
THEY BEAT US? O. SHAW NO!

Nuss Beats Conley By Slight Shade In Fast Match At Bay.

DePere Middleweight Batter Breaks Hand but Whips Fighting Parson While Big Crowd Looks on

Before a crowd of approximately 2,000 people, Jimmy Nuss, DePere battler won over "Parson" Roy Conley of Green Bay by a slight shade in the windup of the Green Bay American Legion boxing card Friday night at the Green Bay armory.

Nuss fought a good clean battle all the way in spite of breaking a hand late in the bout. His hand was broken much the same as last fall when he was forced to cancel several bouts.

Conley put up a hard scrap and forced the DePere boy to give all he had to take the shade victory. The boys fought 10 rounds.

In another hard bout Young Wycko of Milwaukee won a slight shade over Charlie Weber, another Cream City boy, after 8 rounds of speedy boxing in the semi-final.

The boys weighed in at 122 pounds. In the second card of the evening, Rube Schipper of Oshkosh upset the dope bucket completely when he scored the only clean knockout of the night, bowling over Eddie Stack of DePere, the big favorite in the betting, in the first round of a scheduled six-round scrap.

Schipper looks like one of the best men in state ring circles, and he probably will be offered several bouts in the valley in the near future for his fine work against the valley favorite. The boys weighed 180 at the going.

Young Solinski of Green Bay, scored a technical knockout over Young Collander, another Bay light in the opener, when he was awarded the fight by the referee in the third round of a scheduled six round match. The boys weighed 122 pounds.

SHEBOYGAN AFTER BERTH IN MIDWEST

Sheboygan—O. A. Kroos, Conrad Testwilde and William Liehl, representing the Sheboygan Baseball association, went to Racine Wednesday to attend a meeting for the purpose of attempting to find a berth for the Sheboygan club in the Midwest league. Owing to the inability to reorganize the Wisconsin State league of which Sheboygan was a member last year, this city was faced with the danger of being without league ball this year unless some steps were taken at once.

MINOR LEAGUERS STOP YANKS' HEAVY HITTERS

New York—Long range artillery in the Yankee's lineup that has been conspicuously effective on major league diamonds was silenced Friday at Savannah, Ga., by minor league pitching in a game with the Rochester Internationals and it fell to the lot of the newly installed regular, Earl Combs, to save the former American league champions from defeat. His home run in the ninth with one on tied the score at 4-4, and the game was called in the eleventh with the score unchanged.

The Brooklyn Dodgers, who left their training camp in Clearwater, Fla., will resume a series with the Huggins' cohort Saturday at Jacksonville. Manager Robinson lost a squad of eleven pitchers, four catchers, eight infielders and five outfielders. This outfit will be augmented at Birmingham Monday, it is expected, by Pitchers Burleigh Grimes and Art Decatur.

The Giants hazed their second straight game from the Toledo American association nine 7 to 0 in mud and rain.

The National league champions Saturday will resume major league play in a game with the world champion Washington Senators.

WHICH TEAM DID ART DENNY BACK AT MADISON FRIDAY?

A. C. Denny, director of athletics at Lawrence college and coach of the 1925 Midwest, State and Little Five champs, attended the semi-final game of the state high school cage meet between LaCrosse and Neenah Friday night at Madison. Mr. Denny was a star all-around athlete at the LaCrosse High school for three years, playing on three successful basketball teams. He achieved fame as a mentor at Neenah High school, where he coached out some of the best prep teams in the state. His team was defeated by the husky Superior crew for the state title in a hard battle one year, and all of his squads were noted for their ability to walk off with the Oshkosh district meet. He made the school feared in caging and in the developed much of the material that is giving Neenah its great team now. The present coach, George "Nig" Christophers, served under him for five years.

Both bouts will be to a finish.

OSBORNE BREAKS HIGH JUMP MARK IN TEXAS MEET

Austin, Tex. — In the special one mile race between Jim Reese of Texas university and Jole Ray, American mile champion, Ray was unable to finish because he pulled a tendon on the last lap of the race. Reese was in the lead at the time. Reese's time was 4:20 3/4.

Harold Osborne of the Illinois Athletic club broke his own world's record of 6 feet 8 1/4 inches jumping 6 feet 8 1/2 inches in an exhibition against Shepherd, Texas university freshman.

The 100 yard special was won by Jackson Scholz, New York Athletic club, second, Landa, Texas freshman; third, Draper, Fort Worth Central high school; fourth, Bargeff, Texas freshman. Time, 10 1/5.

Paris. — Jack Taylor, Omaha negro lightweight, was given a verdict over Knute Hansen, Wisconsin heavyweight, when Hansen was disqualified in the eighth round for holding.

BADGERS HAVE BEST TRACK TEAM IN YEARS

Schwarze, Krieger, Vallely, McAndrews and Tuhtar Big Stars of Squad

Madison — "One of the best track teams in years," is what followers of the Wisconsin trackbuds are calling this season's aggregation.

And it seems to be just that, too. For the showing made by the Badgers in the Big Ten indoor meet recently, was better than a Madison school outfit has been able to do in a long while.

One of the outstanding stars on the team is Hecla Schwarze, giant weight man. Schwarze took the shot-putting honors in the Western Conference classic without much trouble, tossing the pellet 47 feet 2 inches. He looms up as a luminary of the first order.

Then there is Krieger, who came through nicely in the pole vault. Ho too will be watching, and Jim Becker, Michigan vaulting ace, will have to be at his best to beat the Badger during the coming season.

Other celebrities in the Wisconsin stronghold are Captain Vallely in the middle distance runs, McAndrews, sprints, and Tuhtar in the high jump.

All in all the Cardinals shape up as mighty dangers to contenders for Big Ten outdoor honors this campaign. Fact is, Michigan appears to be the only entry to be feared. If the outcome of the indoor get-together can be taken as a criterion, hence, 1925 supremacy seems to be between the Wolverines and the Badgers with the former perhaps having a slight edge at this writing.

LA CROSSE MEETS NORTHERN TEAM IN TILT FOR TITLE

Shawano Eliminates Beloit in Terrific 16 to 15 Battle Friday Night

By Associated Press

Madison—In what was probably the two fastest and most closely contested games of the state high school basketball tournament Shawano and LaCrosse defeated their opponents in the semi-finals Friday and will meet each other for the championship at 8 o'clock Saturday night.

The Shawano-Beloit game ending 16 to 15, was a seesaw from start to finish with neither team more than two points in the lead at any time. Both teams displayed excellent defensive work, most of the field counters being from beyond the free throw line. Krause, Shawano forward, was the high point winner of the game with four field goals to his credit.

Playing a heady fast game, LaCrosse defeated Neenah 11 to 9. The game was hard fought throughout and featured by a strong defense on both sides. Neenah led at the half 7 to 6, but a free throw at the beginning of the second period tied the score. A basket and two free throws put LaCrosse a point in the lead before Neenah was able to score its final goal. Weakness in making free throws lost the game for the Fox river valley team, they having made four field goals and one out eight free shots, while LaCrosse made two field goals and seven out of eleven free chances.

MANITOWOC LOSES

In the consolation series, Wisconsin Rapids took Manitowoc into camp 20 to 15. The first half ended 13 to 4, but in the second period Manitowoc came back strong, breaking through the Rapids' defense several times for easy shots, but missing many.

River Falls earned a place in the consolation finals by defeating Superior 20 to 16. The Falls team kept the lead throughout the game, winning the first half 16 to 6. In the second period Superior fought hard but their playing was somewhat ragged and although winners in the second half they were unable to overcome the 10-point lead piled up against them in the first period.

Waukesha had little difficulty in winning from Watertown 18 to 12. The first quarter ended 1 to 1, but in the second quarter Waukesha got started and piled up a 9 to 1 lead. They maintained a safe lead throughout the second half. New Glarus defeated Eau Claire 20 to 18 in the third place series in a fast, but ragged game. Eau Claire fumbled considerably the first half, losing it 11 to 6, but came back in the second period with the same fight they have shown throughout the tournament and seriously threatened the final winners.

TAX COMPLAINT REFERRED TO FINANCE COMMITTEE

The mandamus action which was brought against Leo J. Toonen, assessor of incomes, by Joseph Nigl of Kaukauna, who held that he was assessed a tax on income growing out of a farm deal in which no profit was involved, was adjourned when the case was called before Judge Fred V. Heinemann in municipal court on Friday. The case was deferred with the understanding that it be referred to the county committee on taxes which meets the early part of April. Mr. Nigl claims that a mistake was made in assessment of his 1923 income and that the assessor refused to reduce the amount levied. The plaintiff was assessed an income tax of $59.24 and a surtax of $3.62 because he was said to have failed to file a report on the income in question. Mr. Nigl disposed of his farm in Bovina and since it was an exchange and not a sale he denied that there was income to report. Attorney E. C. Smith appeared for the plaintiff.

BEER CHAMP MUST PROVE CAPACITY

Senator Gettleman Challenges Senator White to Drink Barrel of Beer

Madison—State Senator Merritt P. White, Winneconne, who modestly admits he can drink a barrel of beer without getting drunk, Friday had his capacity challenged by Sen. Gettleman. Milwaukee "wot" who has boasted in the corridors of the Wisconsin senate that his wife makes the best 6 per cent wine anywhere. The Milwaukee legislator challenged White to try a barrel of the Gettleman home brew.

"He can't drink a barrel of my beer without getting drunk," Gettleman declared. "If he thinks so, let him come to Milwaukee and I'll have a barrel of real beer waiting for him."

"We'll let Acting-Prohibition Commissioner Harold Lambert be the referee," Gettleman stated. "We'll lay a little bet. If the senator from Winneconne can dispose of a barrel of real beer, I'll give him $100. If he can't, he'll stay on his feet, he is the logical candidate for state prohibition commissioner."

Sensors Gettleman and White are members of the senate committee on state government, which, earlier in the week, approved a resolution memorializing congress to modify the Volstead act to legalize 2.75 per cent beer.

CITY SPENDS $108 FOR EVERY PUPIL IN HIGH SCHOOL

Per Capita Cost of High School Education Less Than in 1920

It costs less to educate the children in Appleton high school now than it did in 1920 and 1921, the per capita cost falling from $147.40 in the 1920-1921 period to $108.74 in 1923-1924. This information is contained in a compilation of school costs prepared by Miss Carrie E. Morgan, superintendent of schools.

In 1921-1922 and 1922-1923 the per capita cost was sharply decreased to $104.26. In the former year expenses were cut down to $100.654.16, but in the following year climbed to $108.628.10, with an increased enrollment of 137 pupils or a total of 1,042.

Last year the enrollment increased to 1,077 and the operating expenses increased to $117,120.57. The per capita cost also increased to $108.74, with capital investment, and to $101.71 for actual cost of operating the school.

An explanation, Miss Morgan says, should be made in regard to the years of 1919-1920 and 1920-1921. In the former year the barracks, recently destroyed by fire, was built and the school was experiencing high prices on account of the war. In the latter year changes and improvements were made to the present building, amounting, with new equipment, to $19,355.53. There also had been made a necessary increase in the salary budget, owing to the high cost of living on account of the war. This increase should really have been made two years before as it was, Miss Morgan said, as teachers at that time were not receiving a living wage.

In 1918-1919 actual per capita cost was $75.21 and entire operation expenses for a school of 594 pupils was only $54,556.18. The following year saw the operation expenses increased to $51,628.95 for 655 pupils, and the per capita cost increased to $119.31, including capital investment, and to $97.15 actual cost.

These figures, which Miss Morgan has given, are the expenses per year of the high school for the last six years, and include all expenditures, including the amount of $5,000 paid annually on the present high school building, which debt is now cleared up. It also includes all interest on bonds and temporary loans.

The tax levy does not equal the expenditures, as money is received from the state and from tuition. In 1918-1919 the levy amounted to $47,000 while the expenditures were $54,556.18. In 1923-24 the levy was $105,000 and the expenditures, $117,120.57, and in 1924-25, the levy was the same as in the former year, $105,000. In 1920-21, when other school expenses were greatly increased, the tax levy also was $105,000.

The cost of maintaining Appleton high school in 1923-24 was $117,120.57. This amount, plus the temporary loans made in anticipation of the tax levy, equaled $147,116.57. The loans were refunded to the city on Feb. 1, out of the regular high school budget and have no effect upon the actual expenses of the school, Miss Morgan said.

GRAND CHUTE KICKS ON CONDITION OF BADGER-ROD

Residents of the town of Grand Chute are in a jam because of the poor condition of the "badger" school road. More than a mile of this highway is said to be impassable for motor vehicles, although there still is $270 available for road work, in the town treasury. The residents are agitating for action by the town council to remedy this condition. Some of them claim that hauling a few loads of cinders to the deepest holes would be sufficient to make the road passable, while others favor more permanent measures.
